Guidelines

Version - 1
(12/08/2008)

1.1 Purpose

The ensuing corporate literature guidelines have been compiled with the express purpose of ensuring a uniform corporate identity via all mediums of communication is maintained. The guidelines should be adhered to at all times, as it covers all aspects of marketing / communications literature, from logo application and usage, to branding, and print and electronic media coverage.

If you require any clarifications on any item of these guidelines, please do not hesitate to contact us: Zairaish Abdeen or Shiromi Masakorala.

1.2 Objective

The pace of change in the today's dynamic marketplace, coupled with an informed and enlightened consumer, means brand visibility, brand recall, and brand association are harder to achieve. Hence, the need for a strong, consistent corporate look. These guidelines provide a template for ensuring all complexities and details are managed, whilst the desired sales and revenue targets are met effectively.

The guidelines are mandatory, and variations without prior consent and approval from the Group Corporate Communications Manager will not be permitted.

2.1 New Logo - Rationale

In keeping with the rapid pace of change around the world and across all sectors, we have understood the need to focus on a new era of growth. The new corporate logo is the first phase of this transformation and symbolizes the new values and vision of the Company.

2.2 What the new Hemas logo stands for

1. Leadership - Taking calculated risks and keeping pace with the evolving marketplace
2. Consumer Focus - An international portfolio of brands to global quality standards
3. One Family - A supportive yet competitive culture. An accountable team inspired by the need to perform and deliver beyond expectations

2.3 What the new Hemas logo symbolises

1. The Hemas Orange - The spirit and fire at the heart of the organisation
2. The Hemas Blue - The dynamism and energy that drives the organisation

3.1 Colour Specifications

Colour reproduction varies considerably from medium to medium. Therefore, the logo must never be reproduced in colours other than the HEMAS special colours, or black & white. For accurate reproduction of the HEMAS colours on other printed material, it is recommended that 6 colours (2 spot colours) be used, rather than simulating it with process inks.

The logo for HEMAS features the word "HEMAS" in a bold, blue, sans-serif font. A small orange diamond is positioned above the 'X'. The letters are slightly italicized.

HEMAS BLUE

HEMAS ORANGE

3.2 Corporate Colours

The corporate colours are special Pantone colours, and have been specifically chosen.

1. HEMAS Blue - Pantone 315 C
2. HEMAS Orange - Pantone 166 C

For print media, please refer the Four Colour Guide as shown. For the electronic media, please refer the Three Colour Guide as shown.

Logo Application

4.1 Literature Style

The following guidelines illustrate how the new corporate logo should be adopted throughout all forms of branding and communication.

Corporate logo with tagline

The width of the tagline should not exceed the width of the corporate logo.

Title

The titles should be in MyriadPro Bold and can be in any colour with a strong contrast to the the background colour.

Imagery

High quality imagery of not less than 300 dpi must be used at all times. The visual can occupy all or part of the designated area and can either be cut out or full background as per the visual.

7.4 Tshirts and caps

Promotional clothing items such as tshirts and caps must maintain the same corporate identity and carry the corporate logo as shown. Tshirts should ideally be white, so that the logo can be placed in full colour.

Caps can either be in the HEMAS Green with the corporate logo appearing in open white lettering, or in a gradient gray, so as to show off the corporate logo in full colour.

Please use either design option wherever best suited.
